

COCONINO COMMUNITY COLLEGE

COURSE OUTLINE

Prepared by: Maxie Inigo
Modified by: Paul Holbrook
Status: Permanent

Date: March 19, 2001

Date: October 4, 2011

A. Identification:

1. Subject Area: Military Science
2. Course Number: MSC 201
3. Course Title: Advanced Leadership
4. Credit hrs: 2
5. Catalog Description:

Theoretical and practical leadership instruction, in which students will examine several aspects of communication and leadership concepts such as written and oral communications, effective listening, assertiveness, personality, adult development, motivation, and organizational culture and change. Students will be well-grounded in fundamental leadership principles and will be better prepared to apply such principles to a wide variety of life experiences. Prerequisites: MSC 101 and *MSC 102 or department consent. Two lecture.

B. Course Goals:

To provide students with knowledge of leadership, communications, effective listening, motivation, adult development, and organizational culture and change.

C. Course Outcomes:

Students will:

1. Apply practical leadership
2. Employ communications effectively
3. Identify assertiveness techniques
4. Understand adult development and motivation
5. Understand organizational culture and change

D. Assessment: NAU conducts assessment for all MS (NAU) and MSC curriculum.

E. Course Content:

Will include:

1. Leadership styles
2. Written and oral communications
3. Effective listening
4. Assertiveness
5. Motivation techniques
6. Adult development
7. Organizational culture and change