Bestselling Author of War and The Perfect Storm

Please join us for a screening of Sebastian Junger's TED Talk, where the author of Tribe discusses experiences of combat veterans transitioning back into civilian society. Junger has seen war up close, and he knows the impact that battlefield trauma has on service-members. He suggests there is another major cause of pain for veterans when they come home: the experience of leaving the tribal closeness of the military and returning to an alienating and bitterly divided modern society. A moderated discussion will follow the screening, led by US Navy Veteran, Kevin Scholler. This event is free and open to the public.

"Sometimes we ask ourselves if we can save the vets...I think the real question is if we can save ourselves." --Sebastian Junger
