

President's Report
February 2024

NOTABLE

The Page Testing Center went from vision to reality in 14 months. It has now been open for one month. In that time, four students took a total of 13 GED tests. Two students have already earned their GED, while the others are halfway done.

Carscallen, Giovanna Macry, Linda Neff, and Luke Owens presented at the Instructional Technology Council Annual Conference held in Las Vegas. They showcased an innovative Open Educational Resources (OER) Project Management Toolkit they designed after a Department of Education grant spurred CCC into creating an OER development process. Additionally, they shared the successes of integrating OER into academic programs and the lessons learned from introducing a standardized course review process where none existed. Conference participants learned how to tailor the toolkit's materials and templates to their institutional needs to foster a culture of open education and broaden student access.

The Bridge Club hosted Kuttz owner Jabarha Nichols as he shared his inspirational story of hardship, struggle, and success. Nichols shared his past life of crime and how his past experiences inspired him to change for the better. He shared all the ups and downs of receiving a DUI, returning to school, starting his own small business (Kuttz), and creating his certified barber school. Nichols passionately shared his story with students, staff, and faculty across the CCC Campus.

CCC's Bryant Long presentation on New Orleans Voodoo, in honor of Black History Month, reflected the deep African heritage that has been misunderstood in modern-day American culture. Long shared about the traditions, religion, and his own personal experience.

Dinner & Movie this month showed the movie "Race" in honor of Black History Month. Race shares the story of Jesse Owens, an African American athlete who defined racial barriers and became an Olympic legend.

Our Game Club hosted Game & Movie Night. The feature film Super Mario Bros. was shown, and multiple video game carts were also present to encourage peer interaction. Over 30 individuals took part in the event, and they expressed great interest in hosting similar events again!

Financial Aid has disbursed $2,587,616.00 to students so far this spring 2024 semester.

PARTNERSHIPS

Since January, the ARP-CET AHCCCS Scholarship has awarded more than $250,000 in scholarships to 102 students in the Nursing, Allied Health, and Early Childhood Education degrees and certificates. These scholarships fully cover tuition for classes within these degrees and certificates, along with a stipend to help offset the costs of books and other required supplies.

Dave Manning taught an EMT Refresher Class at the Page Center, which recertified local EMTs and the Page Fire Department. This training is generally offered in Flagstaff and was much appreciated in Page.

The Phoenix Truck Driving School recently received official approval from the VA to offer GI Bill Benefits at the Coconino/Flagstaff Campus. The approval provides an additional funding option for students interested in the training.

Workforce Training recently submitted three new noncredit programs to the Eligible Training Provider List (ETPL): Medical Billing & Coding, Clinical Dental Assistant, and Pharmacy Technician. All three of these programs are in partnership with Ed2Go and provide an opportunity to take an industry-recognized exam to be certified in that field. Additionally, we are partnering with North Country Healthcare to be an externship site for Ed2Go students who go through the Clinical Dental Assistant program. The three programs were approved for the ETPL, meaning students who enroll in these programs may be eligible for financial assistance through WIOA.
