

President's Report Summer 2024

NOTABLE

Culturally Responsive Practices (CRP) Training Workshop: The College hosted its first Culturally Responsive Practices training workshop, which lasted eight hours over two days. Twenty employees (staff and faculty) attended, and nine of those presented. The training was collaborative, and the attendees were engaged throughout the process. There will be further CRP trainings in the future.

For the past ten months, a dedicated group of CCC faculty and staff have been developing a Culturally Responsive Training workshop for our faculty and staff. This training received funding through the NASNTI (Native American Serving Nontribal Institutions) grant and CCC Academic Affairs funding, allowing the training to be tailored to the CCC Community. This endeavor is ongoing; it's a marathon, not a sprint. While there's still more ground to cover, I'm incredibly proud of the team's achievements. – Brian Francis, NASC Project Director

Summer Bridge 2024: We are excited to share the achievements of our third Strengthening Indigenous Student Success (SISS) Summer Bridge Program cohort at the Lone Tree and Page Campuses. This year, we saw substantial improvements by integrating peer mentor check-ins and individual service plans into our program. These additions allowed us to provide personalized support and ensure each student had a tailored path to success. From the initial New Student Orientation to the Team Building Activities and interactive workshops, it was clear that these enhancements significantly contributed to our students' overall experience. The hard work of our team resulted in an impressive 82% of students passing ENG 101A with a grade of C or better, reflecting the effectiveness of our refined approach in preparing them for academic and personal success. We want to thank our awesome team for their hard work and dedication to serving students. – By Jessica Dodson, SISS Retention Advisor, Page Center

Kathryn Kozak is the principal investigator on an NSF grant (DUE 2402290) called the Two-Year College Data Science Initiative (TYCDSI). In June, the grant brought together 58 faculty from community colleges nationwide to learn how to create a data science program at their college. The workshop was very successful, and future grants may be proposed.

In July, Kathryn Kozak attended the International Congress on Mathematics Education-15 in Sydney, Australia. She presented as part of a discussion group called Non-University Tertiary Mathematics Education: An Opportunity to Democratize Mathematics Education. The presentation was on post-secondary education in the United States, specifically community colleges. Non-university tertiary institutions in other countries were presented, followed by attendees discussing the similarities and differences in countries and whether research should be conducted at these entities. 2500 attendees from 92 different countries participated.

CCC's Clay Club constructed a soda kiln during June and July. Soda firing is an atmospheric firing technique in which sodium bicarbonate (baking soda) is introduced into the kiln at peak temperature towards the end of the firing. The soda vaporizes and is carried throughout the kiln by the flame, reacting with the clay surfaces to create a self-glazing effect. This technique produces dramatic flame patterns and unusual colors on the ceramic pieces.

CCC is one of the few community colleges in the state to offer this unique firing opportunity to our students and the community. The construction process involved leveling the foundation and stacking approximately 1,400 bricks. Ceramic students and Clay Club members eagerly anticipate the inaugural firing at the beginning of the Fall term.

PARTNERSHIPS

CDL Ribbon Cutting & Dedication: The partnership between Mountain Line, NAU, and the CCC CDL program became further solidified when the CDL driving range at the NAU campus was dedicated, with the official ribbon cutting. Several CCC leadership staff attended along with Phoenix Truck Driving School staff. The new range will allow for a dedicated space for CDL training. The program will move from the current range at the Flagstaff Mall to the NAU range once all the details are finalized.

Page Maintenance Technician Training (CAMT): Nine students completed the CCC Maintenance Technician course in June. The course was taught in a hybrid modality, partially by Zoom three evenings a week and in person every other weekend at the CCC Page Center. Students utilized a mobile training unit with specialized training equipment, funded through ARPA funds from Coconino County.
